[ESTABLISHED 1852]

F. LEYPOLDT, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER, 13 AND 15 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.

VOL. XXI., No. 22.

NEW YORK, June 3, 1882.

WHOLE NO. 542.

PORTER & COATES' NEW PUBLICATIONS.

A DELIGHTFUL BOOK OF TRAVEL AND SPORTING.

THREE IN NORWAY.

BY TWO OF THEM.

With a Map, and Eight Full-Page Illustrations and Fifty Woodcuts, engraved by G. H. FORD, from Original Sketches. One volume, 12mo, cloth extra, black and gold, $1.75.

"NOT A DULL PAGE IN THE BOOK."

"The book is charming. It is a book in which, as the Irishman put it, 'there is nothing but everything to make you laugh.' Written with graceful simplicity, with no pretence to knowledge of any kind, with no straining after effect, it is the model of what the story of a holiday should be. Up to the point at which the Skipper goes home, which happily is near the end of the volume, there is not a dull page in the narrative."—Dundee (Scotland) Advertiser.

A NEW "CASTLEMON" BOOK.

GEORGE AT THE FORT; or, Life Among the Soldiers.

The last volume of the "Roughing It" Series. By HARRY CASTLEMON, author of the "Gun-boat" Series, "Sportsman's Club" Series, "Frank Nelson" Series, "Boy Trapper" Series, "Rocky Mountain" Series, and "Go-Ahead" Series. 16mo, cloth extra, black and gold, $1.25.

The "Roughing It" Series will add greatly to the well-deserved reputation of the author.

A BOOK FOR THE TIMES.

ELEMENTS OF POLITICAL ECONOMY, with Special

Reference to the INDUSTRIAL HISTORY OF NATIONS. By Professor ROBERT ELLIS THOMPSON, of the University of Pennsylvania. 12mo, cloth extra, $1.50.

Prof. Thompson believes in the doctrine of Protection as being the most conducive to national welfare, and as the Tariff is and will be for some time the most important political question in this country, his work is one of great general interest.

NEW AND IMPROVED EDITION.

COMPARATIVE NEW TESTAMENT. Both Versions on the same page, in parallel Columns, Revised and Improved. 12mo, cloth extra, $1.50.

ADDITIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS:

1. Chapter headings in Roman Numerals. 2. Running headlines as in the old version. 3. Chronology of the New Testament. 4. The Readings preferred by the American Committee which were adopted by the Committee on Revision are incorporated in the text. Those which were rejected are collectively in the Appendix, and for convenience of reference, are also inserted as foot-notes to the respective passages. 5. A History of the Revision and an Account of the Methods followed by the Committee on Revision. 6. The text can be relied upon as absolutely correct.

"Among the many editions of the Revised Testament we have seen nothing equal to it."—St. Louis Presbyterian.

Summer Catalogue.

A LITERARY COMPANION FOR THE SEASON.

PUBLISHED BY

[The remainder of this space is occupied by the retailer's imprint. For terms see advertising page.]

SEASON OF 1882.

To RETAIL DEALERS:

The Summer Catalogue, issued now for five years, has been found so useful and profitable by enterprising dealers, that it has become a regular feature of the trade. The sixth issue, in a special pamphlet adapted for imprint circulation all through the summer, will be published in connection with THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, early in June.

The imprint editions will contain, in addition to a catalogue of guide-books and light literature for summer reading, an entirely new selection of reading matter both of a practical and entertaining character, chiefly intended for the use and amusement of tourists, pleasure-seekers, and visitors of summer resorts.

Booksellers should remember that, while summer is usually a dull time, the sales of light literature, etc., can be pushed to make a successful business even in this season. The classes who travel are of course those who have money to spend, even in dull times, and the summer is the time when very many bookbuyers do the greater part of their reading. Booksellers at or near summer resorts should therefore especially avail themselves of this publication, while city dealers should remember that it will be also useful to tempt stay-at-homes to make investments or to follow up customers otherwise out of reach.

Orders for imprint editions at subscription rates should be sent in at once.

NOTES IN SEASON.

D APPLETON & CO. publish this week in the International Scientific series "Diseases of the memory—an essay in the positive Psychology," treating the subject from a pathological standpoint, by The Ribot, translated from the French by W. Huntington; an American revised edition of Dr. W. B. Hodgson's handy manual on the "Errors in the use of English"; "The Vision of Esther," by Charles De Kay, who continues the story of the modern reformers of Persia commenced in his former volume "The Vision of Nimrod"; and "The Metropolitan Museum of Art," an illustrated folio containing views of the interior and numerous groups of objects, edited by Gen. L. P. di Cesnola, and illustrated by George Gibson.

A. WILLIAMS & CO. will publish early in June, a new political biography, entitled "Thaddeus Stevens: Commoner," by E. B. Callender, Member of the Massachusetts Bar. Mr. Stevens, as Chairman of the Reconstruction Committee and of the Committee on Ways and Means, was the central figure in the field of our national politics, from 1860 to 1868, the most momentous period in the history of our country. There is no biography of Mr. Stevens extant, and it is believed that this life will be welcomed by all who hold the "old commoner" in affectionate remembrance. The book will be especially valuable to all politicians, containing as it does, an interesting account of the birth and genius of the Republican party, as well as copious extracts from Mr. Stevens' famous speeches.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have just issued in the New Plutarch series "Victor Emmanuel and the Attainment of Italian Unity," by Edward Dicey. In the popular series of Knickerbocker Novels they have issued "Gypsie," by M. E. Kenney. They have in preparation some new American novels. One of these, "On the Borderland," is by Harriette A. Keyser; another, "Margery Graham," is by Isa E. Grey. They will also issue in a few weeks, simultaneously with its publication in London, W. H. Mallock's new volume, "Social Equality: a Study of a Missing Science." The book is described as a pessimistic sermon on democracy in Europe—a democracy which he claims is something altogether unlike that of America, and in the extension and triumph of which he sees ruin like the ruin of old Rome.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will issue shortly an important volume entitled "The Faiths of the World." It will present, in brief but lucid style, the history, characteristics, and comparative value of each of the great religions of the world—of India; the Vedic period; Brahmanism and Buddhism, of China, Persia, Egypt, Greece and Rome; the Teutonic and Scandinavian religions, the ancient religions of Central America, Judaism, Mahomedanism, and finally Christianity, in relation to other religions. Each of these topics is treated by a special student of it, and with a view to exact and scholarly statement, in popular rather than in scientific or controversial form, and from a Christian but not dogmatic point of view.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have just ready a new work on the North American Indians, entitled "The Red Man and the White Man in North America, from its Discovery to the Present Time," by George E. Ellis. The author covers the subject under the following heads: Spanish Discoverers and Invaders; The Indian: his origin, numbers, person, and character; The Indian, in his condition, resources, and surroundings; Indian Tenure of Land, as viewed by European invaders and colonists; The French and the Indians; Colonial relations with the Indians; Missionary efforts among the Indians; Relations of Great Britain with the Indians; The United States Government and the Indians; Military and peace policy with the Indians; The Indians under civilization.

GEORGE H. ELLIS, Boston, has just issued "Wrestling and Waiting," a book containing twenty-seven sermons by the late Rev. John F. W. Ware, for some years settled in Baltimore, and at the time of his death pastor of Arlington Street Church in Boston, the church to which Dr. Channing used to preach. He was a man of excellent ability, and the book deserves a far wider reading than sermons usually receive. It has an introduction by Rev. George L. Chaney, and a fine photograph portrait. Another book of sermons is just ready at Ellis's, "The Gospel of Law," by Rev. S. J. Stewart, who left the Congregational pulpit at Fitchburg, Mass., two years since, in something of a storm, and has since been preaching to a Unitarian society in Bangor, Me. He is said to be a man of mark, and his book is perhaps as good an index as can be had of the tendency among the younger Unitarian ministers.

BUSINESS NOTES.

NEW YORK CITY.—Charles K. Dabney, for many years with E. J. Hale & Son, and well known to the trade, has opened a book and stationery store at 21 Chambers street. He will import books to order and keep rare and out-of-the-way old and new books. He will continue his connection with the house of E. J. Hale & Son.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—The firm of C. E. Morris & Co., consisting of Homer Merriam and Charles E. Morris, has been succeeded by Charles E. Morris, who will continue the book and stationery business in his own name.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in brevier are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule repeated in brevier when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name; as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., ob., record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Allingham, W., M.D. Fistulæ, haemorrhoids, painful ulcer, stricture, prolapsus and other diseases of the rectum: their diagnosis and treatment. 4th ed. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1882. 332 p. 8°. cl., $3.

Ballantine, W. Some experiences of a barrister's life, by Mr. Sergeant Ballantine. N.Y., G: Munro, 1882. 61 p. Q. (Seaside lib., no. 1293.) pap., 20 c.

See notice Weekly Record, P. W., May 20, '82 [540].

Berens, E. M. Hand-book of mythology: The myths and legends of ancient Greece and Rome; il. from antique sculptures. N. Y., Clark & Maynard, 1882. 4+330 p. S. cl., net, 90 c.

"The want of an interesting work on Greek and Roman mythology, suitable for the requirements of both boys and girls, has long been recognized by the principals of our advanced schools . . . In endeavoring to supply this want, I have sought to place before the reader a lifelike picture of the deities of classical times as they were conceived and worshipped by the ancients themselves. . . . It has been my aim to render the legends, which form the second portion of the work, a picture, as it were, of old Greek life—its customs, its superstitions, and its princely households."—Preface.

Burroughs, J.; Stedman, Edmund C.; Whitman, Walt, and others. Essays from The Critic. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1882. 185 p. D. cl., $1.25.

17 essays reprinted from The Critic; among them are: Thoreau's wildness, by J. Burroughs; William Blake, by E. C. Stedman; Death of Carlyle, by Walt Whitman; George Eliot and the novel, by E. Eggleston; Frances Hodgson Burnett, by R. H. Stoddard; Austin Dobson, by E. W. Gosse; English society and Endymion, by Julia Ward Howe, etc.

Chadbourne, Paul A., D.D., and Moore, Walter Burritt, eds. State of New York: the public service of the State of New York during the administration of Alonzo B. Cornell, Governor; historical, descriptive and biographical sketches by various authors, illustrated with views and portraits. In 3 v. V. 3, (v. 1 and 2 still in press). Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1882. 21-554 p. F. crushed levant.

Chambers, W. Story of a long and busy life. London, W. & R. Chambers, [N.Y., R. Worthington], 1882. 117 p. por. S. cl., 50 c.

The present volume comprehends the "Reminiscences of a long and busy life," issued on the occasion of the jubilee of Chambers' Journal, Feb. 4, 1882, but with additions, which double the amount of the original. The additions chiefly refer to an account of visits to persons the author has known in England and elsewhere. The body of the sketch is an account of the life of W. Chambers, the originator of Chambers' Journal, and some facts concerning the publications of the firm of W. & R. Chambers.

Chellis, Mary Dwinell. The old tavern. N. Y., National Temp. Soc. and Pub. House, 1882. 3-73 p. D. (Fife and drum ser., no. 6.) pap., 10 c.

A story showing "the curse which comes from rumselling in the old tavern, and the blessings which a life of abstinence and honest toil brings."

Chicago Bar Association lectures: I, Recollections of early Chicago and the Illinois bar, by Hon. I: N. Arnold; 2, Recollections of the bench and bar of Central Illinois, by Hon. Ja. C. Conkling; 3, The lawyer as a pioneer, by Hon. T. Hoyne. Chic., Fergus Printing Co., 1882. 7-106 p. por. O. (Fergus historical ser., Bar Association ed., no. 1.) pap., $1.

Cleaver, C. Early Chicago reminiscences. Revised from the Chicago Tribune. Chic., Fergus Printing Co., 1882. 52 p. D. (Fergus historical ser., no. 19.) pap., 25 c.

Coues, Elliott. Biogen: a speculation on the origin and nature of life; abridged from a paper on the "Possibilities of protoplasm," read before the Philosophical Soc. of Washington, May 6, 1882. Wash., Judd & Detweiler, 1882. 27 p. O. pap., 10 c.

Dahlgren, Mrs. Madeleine Vinton. South Mountain magic: a narrative. Bost., Ja. R. Osgood & Co., 1882. 218 p. D. cl., $1.50. A collection of weird and picturesque legends of the Maryland mountains, gathered by Mrs. Dahlgren after long research among the hill-people, and forming a very valuable contribution to American folk-lore.

Dickens, C. Mugby Junction. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., 1882. 30 p. Q. (People's lib., no. 268.) pap., 10 c.

Howden, P. The horse: how to buy and sell giving the points which distinguish a sound from an unsound horse. N. Y., Orange Judd Co., 1882. 129 p. il. D. cl., $1. The title fully describes the present volume; it is written for every one interested in horses, and abounds in general information stated in a clear and simple manner. It also explains the meaning of horse warranty and its use, and shows the value of knowledge on this subject.

Johnson, Virginia W. Two old cats: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1882. 44 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 251.) pap., 15 c.

The "two old cats" are two antiquated maiden ladies, who do their best to interrupt the course of true love between a lovely young American girl and a manly young Englishman; the characters belong to two parties travelling in Europe; the American ladies are well drawn, and the tragic death of little Jessica is full of pathos.

Kerr, Norman, M.D. Wines: scriptural and ecclesiastical. N. Y., National Temp. Soc. and Pub. House, [1882]. 138 p. D. cl., 50 c. Discusses the question as to what kind of wine the Bible sanctions. Dr. Kerr says, "Vayin" means a poison and a mocker, but that "Kalon onion" and "Yayin" mean unfermented wine, grape juice, and recommends this use.

McFetridge, Rev. N. S. Calvinism in history. Phil., Presb. Bd. of Pub., [1882]. 157 p. S. cl., 75 c.

4 lectures: Calvinism as a political force; Calvinism as a political force in the history of the United States; Calvinism as a moral force; Calvinism as an evangelizing force. The book is made up from six lectures delivered by the author in the Wakefield Presbyterian Church, Germantown, Pa.

Meigs, J. Forsyth, M.D., and Pepper, W., M.D. A practical treatise on the diseases of children. 7th ed., rev. and enl. Phil., P. Blakiston, Son & Co., 1882. 1055 p. 8°. cl., $6; leath., $7.

Pancoast, Seth, M.D. What is Bright's disease? its curability. Phil., published by the author [J. B. Lippincott & Co.], 1882. 152 p. il. S. cl., $1.

The author, Dr. Seth Pancoast, of Phila., specialist in the treatment of chronic diseases, believes in the curability of the much-dreaded "Bright's disease," and sets forth in this little volume his theory of what the disease is, and how it may be overcome. A book for the practitioner and also for laymen.

Proctor, R. A. Hereditary traits, and other essays. N. Y., J. Fitzgerald & Co., 1882. 60 p. O. (Humboldt lib., no. 32.) pap., 15 c.

Robinson, Conway. History of the High Court of Chancery and other institutions of England, from the time of Caius Julius Caesar until the accession of William and Mary (in 1688-9). In 2 v., V. I: To the death of Henry VIII. (1546-7). Richmond, Va., J. W. Randolph & English, 1882. 32+1215 p. O. shp., $7.50.

Notes in chronological order all who sat upon the English bench previously to the time when there was "a settled court of equity before the chancellor;" also gives particulars, not only of Lord Chancellors and Keepers of the Great Seal, but also of Masters of the Rolls and other Masters in Chancery, and the Registrars; also embraces the institutions of England and the surrounding circumstances of the period.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

O'CONNELL's diary, extending from his seventeenth to his twenty-seventh year, is appearing for the first time in print in the pages of The Irish Monthly.

THE London Literary World is authority for the statement that Mrs. Alexander Carlyle intends writing a memoir of her great uncle, to do away with the bad impression as to his character created by Mr. Froude.

"AMERIKA" is the name of an illustrated weekly journal in Vienna, Austria, managed by Otto Maass, formerly of Philadelphia, which is quite a help to those purposing emigration to this country. It is attractively presented, the number for the 1st inst. having illustrations of Longfellow's residences, and of Castle Garden, New York city.

ROBERT CLARKE & Co. announce that, if due patronage offers itself to permit, they intend to issue in the coming July the first number of The American Journal of Forestry, devoted to the discussion of this important topic and the diffusing throughout America "the latest and best results of study and observation" upon it. The journal will be monthly, and Franklin B. Hough, Ph. D., will take editorial charge of it. His name will be familiar in connection with his "Elements of Forestry."

A GENTLEMAN of Philadelphia, interested in education, offers, through Quiz, a prize for an essay on "Table Talk" of $100. Fifty dollars for originality and $25 each for style and humor. Amateurs may compete, whether or not subscribers to Quiz. The contest for the prizes closes in October, and the decision will be rendered in November. George C. Eggleston, of New York ; John Boyle O'Reilly, of Boston, and Dr. A. C. Lambdin, of Philadelphia, have consented to act as judges.

The Publishers' Weekly.

JUNE 3, 1882.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries," gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto." —LORD BACON.

INTERNATIONAL COPYRIGHT.

Harpers' Weekly, in its editorial comment on Matthew Arnold's article from which THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY in its issue of May 20 printed an extract, refers to the views presented as follows:

"What does Mr. Arnold mean by citing the present American position in regard to international copyright as proof of the dominating influence of 'Murdstone and Quinion'? Constitutionally, the present American position is that of England. Literary property is protected in both countries, not because of the author's right, but because of advantage to the state. By common consent the present American position is, in substance, that it would be beneficial to the state to give the English author copyright, upon condition of the manufacture of the book in this country. This, indeed, does not acknowledge the complete right of the author to dispose absolutely and forever of the publication of his work. Nor does England acknowledge it. The copies of Shakespeare and Milton upon Mr. Arnold's shelves have paid no royalty to the heirs of those poets. But if Murdstone dictates the present position of this country upon this subject, he is equally powerful in England, for all the chief English authors of ten years ago, Mill, Carlyle, Darwin, Spencer, and the rest—and Matthew Arnold is the only conspicuous name absent from the list—agreed cordially with the American view.

"Even the 'children of light,' therefore, to whom Mr. Arnold appeals, do not 'repudiate Mr. Conant,' at whom he wings his shaft, who merely expresses the view held by the great body of English and American authors, not of abstract right, but of a possible mutually satisfactory arrangement under the principle of literary property recognized both by the English and the American fundamental law. 'I am not arguing,' says Mr. Conant, 'against international copyright for in common with most of my countrymen I regard it as a just measure, and favor its adoption from reasons of right and policy.' He speaks expressly not of an abstract right, but of a practicable understanding, and if his accents seem to Mr. Arnold to be those of Murdstone, we can only wonder by what mad elf Fine-Ear has been bewitched."

BOOKSELLERS' AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

THE annual meeting of the Association will be held at the Trade Sale Rooms, Astor Place, June 7, at 8 P.M.

The Association, we are glad to hear, is in a flourishing condition, having increased considerably in membership since January. Any new words from us in behalf of the objects of the Association seem almost unnecessary. We can only repeat the hope that all members of the trade will unite in furthering the interests of an organization which, does so much good at so insignificant a draft on the pockets of members.

PRANG'S PRIZE CHRISTMAS CARDS.

L. PRANG & Co. have now ready their new Prize Christmas Cards for 1882-83. They consist of seven cards, from five to seven inches long, and seven to ten wide. They are the designs selected by the vote of the artists and the public, receiving in all prizes to the amount of $4000. Miss Dora Wheeler, upon whose card the two votes united, according her the 1st Artists' and 1st Popular prize ($2000), has been very happy in her choice of a subject—the virgin and child is appearing to a poor woman and her two scantily-clad children. The woman and children stand upon a globe and are supported by a tree, whose branches are laden with snow; the vision is facing her in the clouds. The coloring of this picture is excellent, and the figures well done. The border is an arabesque design, through which angel's heads are peeping. The second Popular Prize Card is by Walter Satterlee. It is quaint and bright—little children in old-fashioned costumes singing carols to two other children in a cottage window. The fire shines through the lattice, snow-birds hop about on the snow, angels smile down from the clouds. Second Artists' Prize Card, by Miss L. B. Humphrey, represents Christmas eve—a little girl in a white gown, kneeling before a wide fire-place, in which is a blazing fire, praying Santa Claus to forget no one on the morrow. The dark background, the child's white drapery and the lighter surrounding panels are well contrasted. Third Popular Prize Card, designed by Frederick Diehlman, though not remarkably original in design, is calculated to win the popular fancy everywhere. A Christmas-tree full of candles, stands against a gold background. In front of it a little girl sings a carol from an open book—other children cluster around her, and others look out of the open window, where upon the ground beneath little birds are seen in the snow. The faces are well drawn and full of expression. The border of the picture is made of green leaves and holly berries, through which a ribbon is twined, with a Christmas legend upon it. Third Artists' Prize Card, by Miss L. B. Humphrey, betrays the artist's preference for the human figure. She again concentrates herself upon one figure—a female in loose white drapery and flowing fair hair, standing upon a crescent—from one hand a dove has just escaped, from the other hangs an olive branch. The background is blue, the border brown and gold. The Fourth Popular Prize Card is by Miss Florence Taber. It represents three figures returning from gathering holly—they are in Kate Greenaway costumes, and a heavy snow is falling. The border is a beautiful delicate tint, and some large white flowers are thrown carelessly upon one corner. Fourth Artists' Prize Card, by Alfred Fredericks—a little boy just awakened in his crib Christmas morning, his toys all around him. The design is in a circular frame, the space between the circle and the edge of the card being in dead gold—on this are floating butterflies, holly sprigs, a dove, etc. We must not forget to call attention to the backs of all these cards—each one shows a special design. They all come fringed, and with cords and tassels. Besides these really artistic pictures, the Messrs. Prang & Co. have added quite a large number of new Christmas and New Years' cards to their already large and beautiful collection, which we will describe in a future number of the WEEKLY.

CUES TO TIMELY TOPICS.

AMERICAN POLITICS.—A list of authorities to be consulted is given in Johnston's History of American Politics (Holt.)

ANTHROPOLOGY.—The Smithsonian Report, 1880, just issued, contains a full bibliography of the year, by O. T. Mason.

DARWIN AND EMERSON are the leading subjects in the May number of the Providence Public Library Reference Lists.

PHILOSOPHY.—No. 60 of the Journal of Speculative Philosophy (Appleton) contains an index to the contents of the entire fifteen volumes of the journal.

EDUCATIONAL.—The School Bulletin in its current numbers is publishing a remarkably full list "of books on teaching in English, which are known to be attainable."

CHURCH MUSIC.—Barrett's English Church Composers, published in Hueffer's "Great Musicians" series, furnishes much bibliographical information which may be sought in vain elsewhere.

ARCHITECTURE.—A valuable list of books in Cornell University Library, which form what is known as the "White Architectural Collection," and were in large part the gift of President White, is given in the first number of the Library of Cornell University.

SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS.—The Smithsonian Report, 1880, contains records of recent scientific progress in the various departments of science, by S. F. Baird, E. S. Holden, G. W. Hawes, G. F. Barker, W. G. Farlow, T. Gill, and O. T. Mason.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOOKS.—The Christian Union, June 1, published a carefully selected list of books recommended for use in Sunday-School libraries. A list of books approved during the year ending May 1, 1882, by the Connecticut Ladies' Commission on Sunday-school Books, is published in the Religious Herald, May 11.

IRELAND AND THE LAND QUESTION.—The March Bulletin of the Boston Public Library contains, introductory to a list of works lately added to the library, a list of the specially necessary and important historical works, and also the most interesting travels and descriptions of manners and customs to be found in the library.

MINERALOGY.—The third appendix to the fifth edition of Dana's Mineralogy, just published by Wiley, includes a list of mineralogical works published since January, 1875; also, a list of new journals devoted wholly or in part to mineralogical subjects; and also a list of memoirs upon a single mineralogical subject of more than ordinary importance.

PETRARCA.—"The Library of Cornell University" is the title of a publication analogous to the Bulletin of Harvard University. It is mainly a record of recent accessions to the library, with notes and bibliographical appendices. In the first number deserving of special remark is the list of Petrarch bibliographies, by the librarian, Prof. Willard Fiske.

LONGFELLOW.—Kennedy's new book on Longfellow, just published by Moses King, contains a reprint, with corrections and additions, of the Bibliography, from the Literary World, Feb. 26, 1881, but omits to mention the important list of references for the student, published in the Providence Public Monthly Reference Lists, for February, 1882, on Longfellow.

INSURANCE.—The April number of the Insurance Times contains the first instalment of a "Catalogue of Books upon Insurance Law, and of the most Noted Authors, Ancient and Modern, upon Jurisprudence Usually Cited by the Bench and by Text-writers upon the Law of Insurance." Part I., is devoted to Marine Insurance and Maritime Law. Compiled by J. Griswold.

HISTORY OF THE MIDDLE AGE.—A short appendix in Stillé's "Studies of Mediæval History" (Lippincott), gives "a list of books of authority, in French and English, concerning the history of the Middle Age;" respecting which Dr. Stillé remarks that it might be made much fuller, but that he has thought best to include the titles of those books only which may be found in any well-furnished public library.

HISTORICAL FICTION.—Mr. H. Courthope Bowen publishes a list of over 300 Historical Novels and Tales in the Journal of Education. They are grouped under different countries and arranged according to the periods of which they treat. The list is designed as an aid to history teaching at schools, and to school libraries generally. In order to make it as healthful as possible, the compiler, Mr. H. Courthope Bowen, asks earnestly for corrections and additions.—Library Journal.

CIVIL SERVICE.—The March Bulletin of the Boston Public Library, in a note prefixed to a list of the most important recent publications upon Civil Service Reform, now in the library, states: "This does not attempt to include all that has been written relating more or less to the subject. The student who wishes to pursue his investigations farther, especially in the early years of our history, is referred to Mr. Foster's Literature of Civil Service Reform. He also should consult the file of Harper's Weekly, the Nation, and Congressional Record." A list of works relating to the German Civil Service is given in the first number of the "Library of Cornell University."

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

M. LOUIS BLANC is engaged in preparing for publication a complete edition of his works.

Le Livre states that M. Emile Ollivier is writing another book on the Church and State in Italy and France.

DR. JULES JUSSERAND has almost completed a "History of English Literature," to be published in one volume.

GEORGE W. CABLE, the New Orleans novelist, is hard at work upon a romance dealing with American types in that city.

THE Earl of Lytton is engaged in preparing for publication during the ensuing autumn the earlier volumes of his father's life.

L. PYLODET has nearly finished the compilation of a complete vocabulary of the menu intended for the use of the chef as well as the gourmet.

BRET HARTE'S recollections of Longfellow will appear in the next number of Good Words. They have already been published in German in a Vienna journal.

JOHN MORLEY, after retiring in November from the editorship of The Fortnightly Review will devote all the time not given to editing The Pall Mall Gazette to purely literary work.

MR. EDWARD GREEY, of New York, author of "Young Americans in Japan," will return to Japan next month to collect material for a work on the Keramic Art of the far East.

PROF. SCHUCHARDT, of the University of Graz, is engaged on a bibliography of the so-called Creole languages, the literature of which is much richer than is generally assumed.

MR. DARWIN has, it seems, left an autobiography behind him. There has also been found among his papers a sketch of his father about equal in length to that of his grandfather, which was published some time ago.

MISS SUSAN HALE has gone to Europe to collect the material of the third "Family Flight," which will be taken "through Spain." The manuscript for the second, "over Egypt and Syria," is now in preparation for the coming holiday season.

REV. A. G. L'ESTRANGE is editing a work entitled "The Friendships of Mary Russell Mitford in Letters from her Literary Correspondents." It will contain letters from W. M. Macready, William Cobbett, Douglas Jerrold, John Ruskin, Barry Cornwall, Mrs. Trollope, Mrs. Hemans, Joanna Baillie, Harriet Martineau, Miss Edgeworth, and James T. Fields. The book, it is announced, will throw quite as much light on Miss Mitford's character as on that of her correspondents.

THE Rev. Julius H. Ward is engaged in preparing a memorial volume on Ralph Waldo Emerson for immediate publication. It will include, with a large amount of original matter, whatever in the way of story, comment, or song is worthy of preservation in present writing, and is intended to meet the wants of those who wish to know more about Mr. Emerson personally than has heretofore been accessible. It is stated that Mr. Ward's work in no way interferes with the forthcoming "Life and Letters of Emerson," which Mr. J. Eliot Cabot will publish in due time.

STATIONERY NOTES.

IVISON, BLAKEMAN, TAYLOR & Co. have just placed upon the market two sizes of stone bottle ink-stands, known as the "Miniatue" and "Dwarf." Both sizes contain the best quality of the firm's inks, and are sold at a very low retail price.

E. & H. T. ANTHONY & Co. have just ready a handsome photograph of Edwin Booth, by Sarony. The photograph is issued in two styles—cabinet, and panel (7x13), heavily mounted, and is interesting from the fact that it is the last for which the great tragedian will sit. They have also issued photographs of Miss Minnie Maddern, of the Park Theatre, New York, and of Miss Lilian Olcott, a new dramatic "star" of Brooklyn.

L. PRANG & Co. have several new plaques which are very beautiful, embracing subjects in flowers, landscapes, and figures from some of our best painters. Two subjects are roses, from paintings by G. C. Lambdin, one of the first flower painters in this country. There are also "Cupid and Psyche," after Riedel, and landscapes by Benjamin Champney. These goods are very heavily mounted and varnished, so as to exactly resemble porcelain, but are more lasting than those of that material, because they are not easily broken.

MARCUS WARD & Co. have now ready a full line of samples of their forthcoming Christmas and New Year cards. Prominent among the new cards are the designs by Kate Greenaway, whose pretty and quaint groups never wane in the favor of card-buyers. They show some lines of exquisite flower pieces, and a number of humorous designs. Their Shakespeare card presents the seven ages of man. They have also a line of four cards with Hibernian designs. The cards are put up as usual—plain and fringed, single and double. They have also under way some novelties in their famous Irish linen papers.

PERSONAL NOTES.

MR. JAMES R. OSGOOD has returned from his Southern trip.

MR. K. N. WASHBURN has charge of the school-book interests of Porter & Coates in New York. He is to be found at their New York agency, 6 Bond Street.

MR. W. W. CHILVER has renewed his engagement with Porter & Coates as manager of their N. Y. agency, No. 6 Bond Street, where he will be pleased to see or hear from the trade.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

TIBBITS & SHAW, Providence, R. I., will publish this month "King's Handbook of Providence."

J. H. VAIL & Co. have in press a volume on "Electro-Diagnosis in Diseases of the Nervous System," by Dr. Hughes Bennett.

JAS. R. OSGOOD & Co. will issue at once Edward Jenkins's story, "A Paladin of Finance"—apparently a satire on the late Union Générale.

T. WHITTAKER has just issued "Character Building," talks to young men, by Robert P. Barrett; also an edition of the "Charles Dickens Birthday Book."

S. C. GRIGGS & Co. have now ready an exposition of "Kant's Critique of Pure Reason," by Prof. George S. Morris, which forms the initial volume in their German Philosophical Classics.

THE Bureau of Ethnology expects to print shortly a valuable Indian Vocabulary, compiled at the end of the last century, by an officer of the United States Army, Captain William Preston.

A. D. F. RANDOLPH & Co. have in press "Western Palestine: its waterways, plains, and highlands," by Trelawney Saunders; also "Heralds of the Cross; or, the Fulfilling of the Command," by Miss Arnold Forster.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MARSTON of Massachusetts having felt compelled, in the interests of morality and good literature, to suppress the publication of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," unless certain objectionable poems were expunged, Messrs. Jas. R. Osgood & Co., the publishers of the volume, have declined further responsibility in the matter, and have ceased to publish the book.

IVISON, BLAKEMAN, TAYLOR & Co. have just issued "Daniels' Short Sentences, for practice in writing Latin, designed for students in Caesar's 'Gallic War.'" This is the second and enlarged edition of a small manual which, originally printed by the author for the use of his own classes, has found its way into several of the best classical schools of New England. Its purpose is to supply teachers of Latin with the best sort of material ready to hand for practice in writing Latin.

JAS. R. OSGOOD & Co. have in press "A History of the Boundary Disputes of Connecticut," by Mr. Clarence Bowen, of The Independent. The first part of the book describes the boundary controversies between the English and Dutch, the Duke of Hamilton's claim, the Mohegan claim, and the disputes about Long Island and New Haven. The other three parts discuss Connecticut's debates with New York, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island, until the settlement in 1880. The frontispiece is a heliotype portrait of Governor John Winthrop, from the original painting; and there are seventeen maps, most of which are from unpublished ones in the archives of Massachusetts and Connecticut, and in the State Paper Office London.

E. & J. B. YOUNG & Co. have just received the following volumes issued by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; "China," by Prof. Robert K. Douglas; "Charlemagne," by the Rev. Edward L. Cutts; and "Mitslav, or the Conversion of Pomerania," by the late Bishop Milman, who died in the discharge of his duty 1500 miles from Calcutta, after nine years of incessant labor in his vast diocese, having poured his very life into his work. They will also issue very soon the second and concluding volume of the Rev. John Henry Blunt's "History of the Reformation of the Church of England." It embraces the period from the death of Henry VIII. to the Restoration of the Church after the Commonwealth, and will rank as a standard and authoritative work.

A. WILLIAMS & Co. will publish at once, by subscription, in large sumptuous pamphlet form, the proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society with reference to the deaths of Longfellow and Emerson. The work will be finely printed in large old-face type, and will be illustrated with the Notman and Warren photographs of the dead poet and philosopher, the last pictures for which they sat. It will contain the proceedings of the April meeting of the Society in memory of Mr. Longfellow, at which addresses were made by Dr. G. E. Ellis, Dr. O. W. Holmes, Prof. Charles E. Norton and Dr. William Everett of Adams Academy, and the proceedings of the meeting of May 12. Emerson's essay on Carlyle will also be printed in this volume. They have also in press a volume of humorous vers de société, entitled "Sly Ballads in Harvard China," by an anonymous writer. The volume is to be illustrated by Lambert Hollis, and in style the book will be quite unique, with flexible covers decorated in delicate colors like the famous Paris art amateur series so highly prized by connoisseurs.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, in the prospectus to the Campaigns of the Civil War, stated that besides the volumes of which the subjects and authors were there made public, two more volumes would be issued to complete the series. They are now in a position to announce specifically that the first of these—number 8 in the chronological order—will be "The Mississippi," by F. V. Greene, Lieut. of Engineers, U. S. Army; late Military Attaché to the U. S. Legation at St. Petersburg; author of "The Russian Army and its Campaigns in Turkey in 1877-78," and of "Army Life in Russia." This will embody an account of the operations—especially at Vicksburg and Port Hudson—by which the Mississippi River and its shores were restored to the control of the Union. In accordance with many suggestions from students of the war, it has been decided to devote the remaining volume (11) to "The Shenandoah Valley"—the campaign of Sheridan—by a writer of acknowledged competence, whose name will shortly be announced.

AT the International Literary Congress at Rome an account will be given of the negotiations for copyright between the United States and Great Britain.

WE regret to hear of the death of Mr. John Blackwood, son of the late Mr. John Blackwood, of the well-known Edinburgh publishing firm. The deceased gentleman, who was only twenty-five years of age, was during the present year to have joined the firm of W. Blackwood & Sons.

MESSRS. LONGMANS announce as in preparation a book upon the Irish Massacres of 1641, their causes and results. It will consist of a selection from the depositions preserved in MS. in the library of Trinity College, Dublin, with an introduction by Mary Hickson, and a preface by J. A. Froude.

SAMPSON Low & Co. announce the publication shortly of a Life of Sebastian Bach, which will form the new volume of their Biographies of Great Musicians. Mr. W. A. Baillie-Grohman, author of "Tyrol and the Tyrolese," and a member of the Alpine Club, has in the press, to be published immediately by the same firm, "Camps in the Rockies," being a narrative of life on the frontier and sport in the Rocky Mountains, with an account of the cattle ranches of the West, with illustrations and an original map based on the most recent United States Government survey.

EXTRACT FROM AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

"The author of the present volume, as nominal editor of the whole series, refers with confidence to the names of the eminent scholars and teachers who have promised to prepare other volumes, as furnishing a sufficient guarantee that the series, as a whole, will worthily realize its published aim.

To furnish, in effect, a history of the most conspicuous and permanently influential movement in the history of German thought, . . . to render reasonably accessible to the intelligent English reader a knowledge of German philosophic thought in its leading outlines, and at the same time to furnish the special student with a valuable introduction and guide to more comprehensive studies in the same direction."

Christmas and New Year's Cards.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—We beg leave to announce the completion of our line of Christmas and New Year Cards for the season 1882-1883, for which our agents will commence to solicit orders in May. We feel confident that the popularity which our Cards have enjoyed in former seasons will again be secured by the efforts we have made to bring out a line in advance of all our previous productions. The names of the artists who have contributed designs is proof of our continued efforts to reach the highest excellence. We will name only the following: Miss L. B. Humphrey, Miss F. Bridges, Miss Dora Wheeler, Mrs. O. E. Whitney, Miss Rosina Emmet, Miss Florence Taber, Miss L. B. Comins, Thomas Moran, Frederick Dielman, Alfred Fredericks, Alexander Saudier, Harry Beard, Walter Satterlee, R. G. Birch, Theo. Liebler, F. Schuyler Mathews, Geo. J. Barnes, H. P. Kendall.

Due regard has again been paid to the literary matter in connection with the designs, and many of the latter are accompanied by original poems, from writers of note, such as: Mrs. Celia Thaxter and Mrs. Emily Shaw Forman.

Diseases of Memory:

AN ESSAY IN THE POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY. By TH. RIBOT, author of "Heredity," etc. Translated from the French by William Huntington. ("International Scientific Series.") 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"The phenomena of memory have often been investigated, but never from a pathological stand-point. It has seemed to me that it might be profitable to consider its subject in this form; . . . the volume will bring to the reader's attention many accounts of peculiar cases, scattered over a wide field of research, and only now brought together in a connected form."—From the Preface.

II.

Errors in the Use of English.

By the late WILLIAM B. HODGSON, LL.D., Professor of Political Economy in the University of Edinburgh. American revised edition. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"This posthumous work of Dr. Hodgson deserves a hearty welcome, for it is sure to do good service for the object it has in view—improved accuracy in the use of the English language. . . . Perhaps its chief use will be in very distinctly proving with what wonderful carelessness or incompetency the English language is generally written. For the examples of error here brought together are not picked from obscure or inferior writings. Among the grammatical sinners whose trespasses are here recorded appear many of our best-known authors and publications."—The Academy.

III.

The Vision of Esther.

By CHARLES DE KAY. A sequel to "The Vision of Nimrod; an Oriental Romance in Verse." Large 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

This poem continues the story of the modern reformers of Persia, and in the Vision gives further particulars of antiquity from the mouth of a woman.
